

Winter Literacy Challenge

Students have an opportunity to complete a literacy challenge this month. This is not a required assignment, merely a choice whether a student wants to participate. Students that complete at least 8 of the 10 challenges and turn this completed paper into Mrs. Hawks no later than Friday February 28th, will earn a piece of candy. These students will also get their name turned into a drawing for a free book. These challenges are meant to be completed at home, not at school. Parents/guardians are welcome to help their students with the challenges. Parents/guardians need to sign their initials next to each challenge where it says "PI". Shared reading is a fantastic way to spend time together. If students are struggling to find a particular book or article, I am happy to help them with that!

- Read a book and then watch the movie. PI: _____

Title of book/movie _____

- Find out 3 cool facts about your favorite author.

Fact 1: _____

Fact 2: _____

- Read in your pajamas (for at least 20 minutes). PI: _____

- Read instructions to a game and then play it.

Name of Game _____ PI: _____

- Read a book with snow on the cover. PI: _____

Title and Author of book _____

TURN OVER

Read a Valentine's themed book.

PI: _____

Title and Author of book _____

Write a descriptive paragraph about a snowy winter day.

Read an article about the Chiefs or a Chiefs player.

PI: _____

Name of article _____

Source _____

Read a biography or autobiography.

PI: _____

Title and Author of book _____

Read a recipe and help bake or cook it with an adult.

PI: _____

Name of recipe _____